the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office for National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the importance of the role of the family in supporting older people. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to older people, and the need to support them in their homes. The strategy also sets out the need to support the family in caring for older people.
